the great portraits of the world's most photographed woman

the Diana portfolio

free with

ROYALTY

Collectors EDITION 4

When this picture of the then unknown Lady Diana Spencer hit the front pages of the world's newspapers, could the nineteen year-old kindergarten helper have known that within the next decade she would become the world's most photographed woman? In this special Diana Portfolio, we celebrate those ten years before the world's cameras with our own personal choice of favourite portraits. The Princess of Wales has been photographed by the world's leading photographers and the bulk of our choice is made up of what are termed "official" portraits by the likes of Snowdon, Lichfield, Terence Donovan and David Bailey. The fact that they had the benefit of several hours with the Princess in studio settings shows. Everyone, though, has their favourite Diana picture, most of them taken under more stressful – for both photographer and subject! – circumstances.

We cannot expect every reader to agree with our choice, but we hope it has produced a memorable souvenir of the first ten years of Charles & Diana.

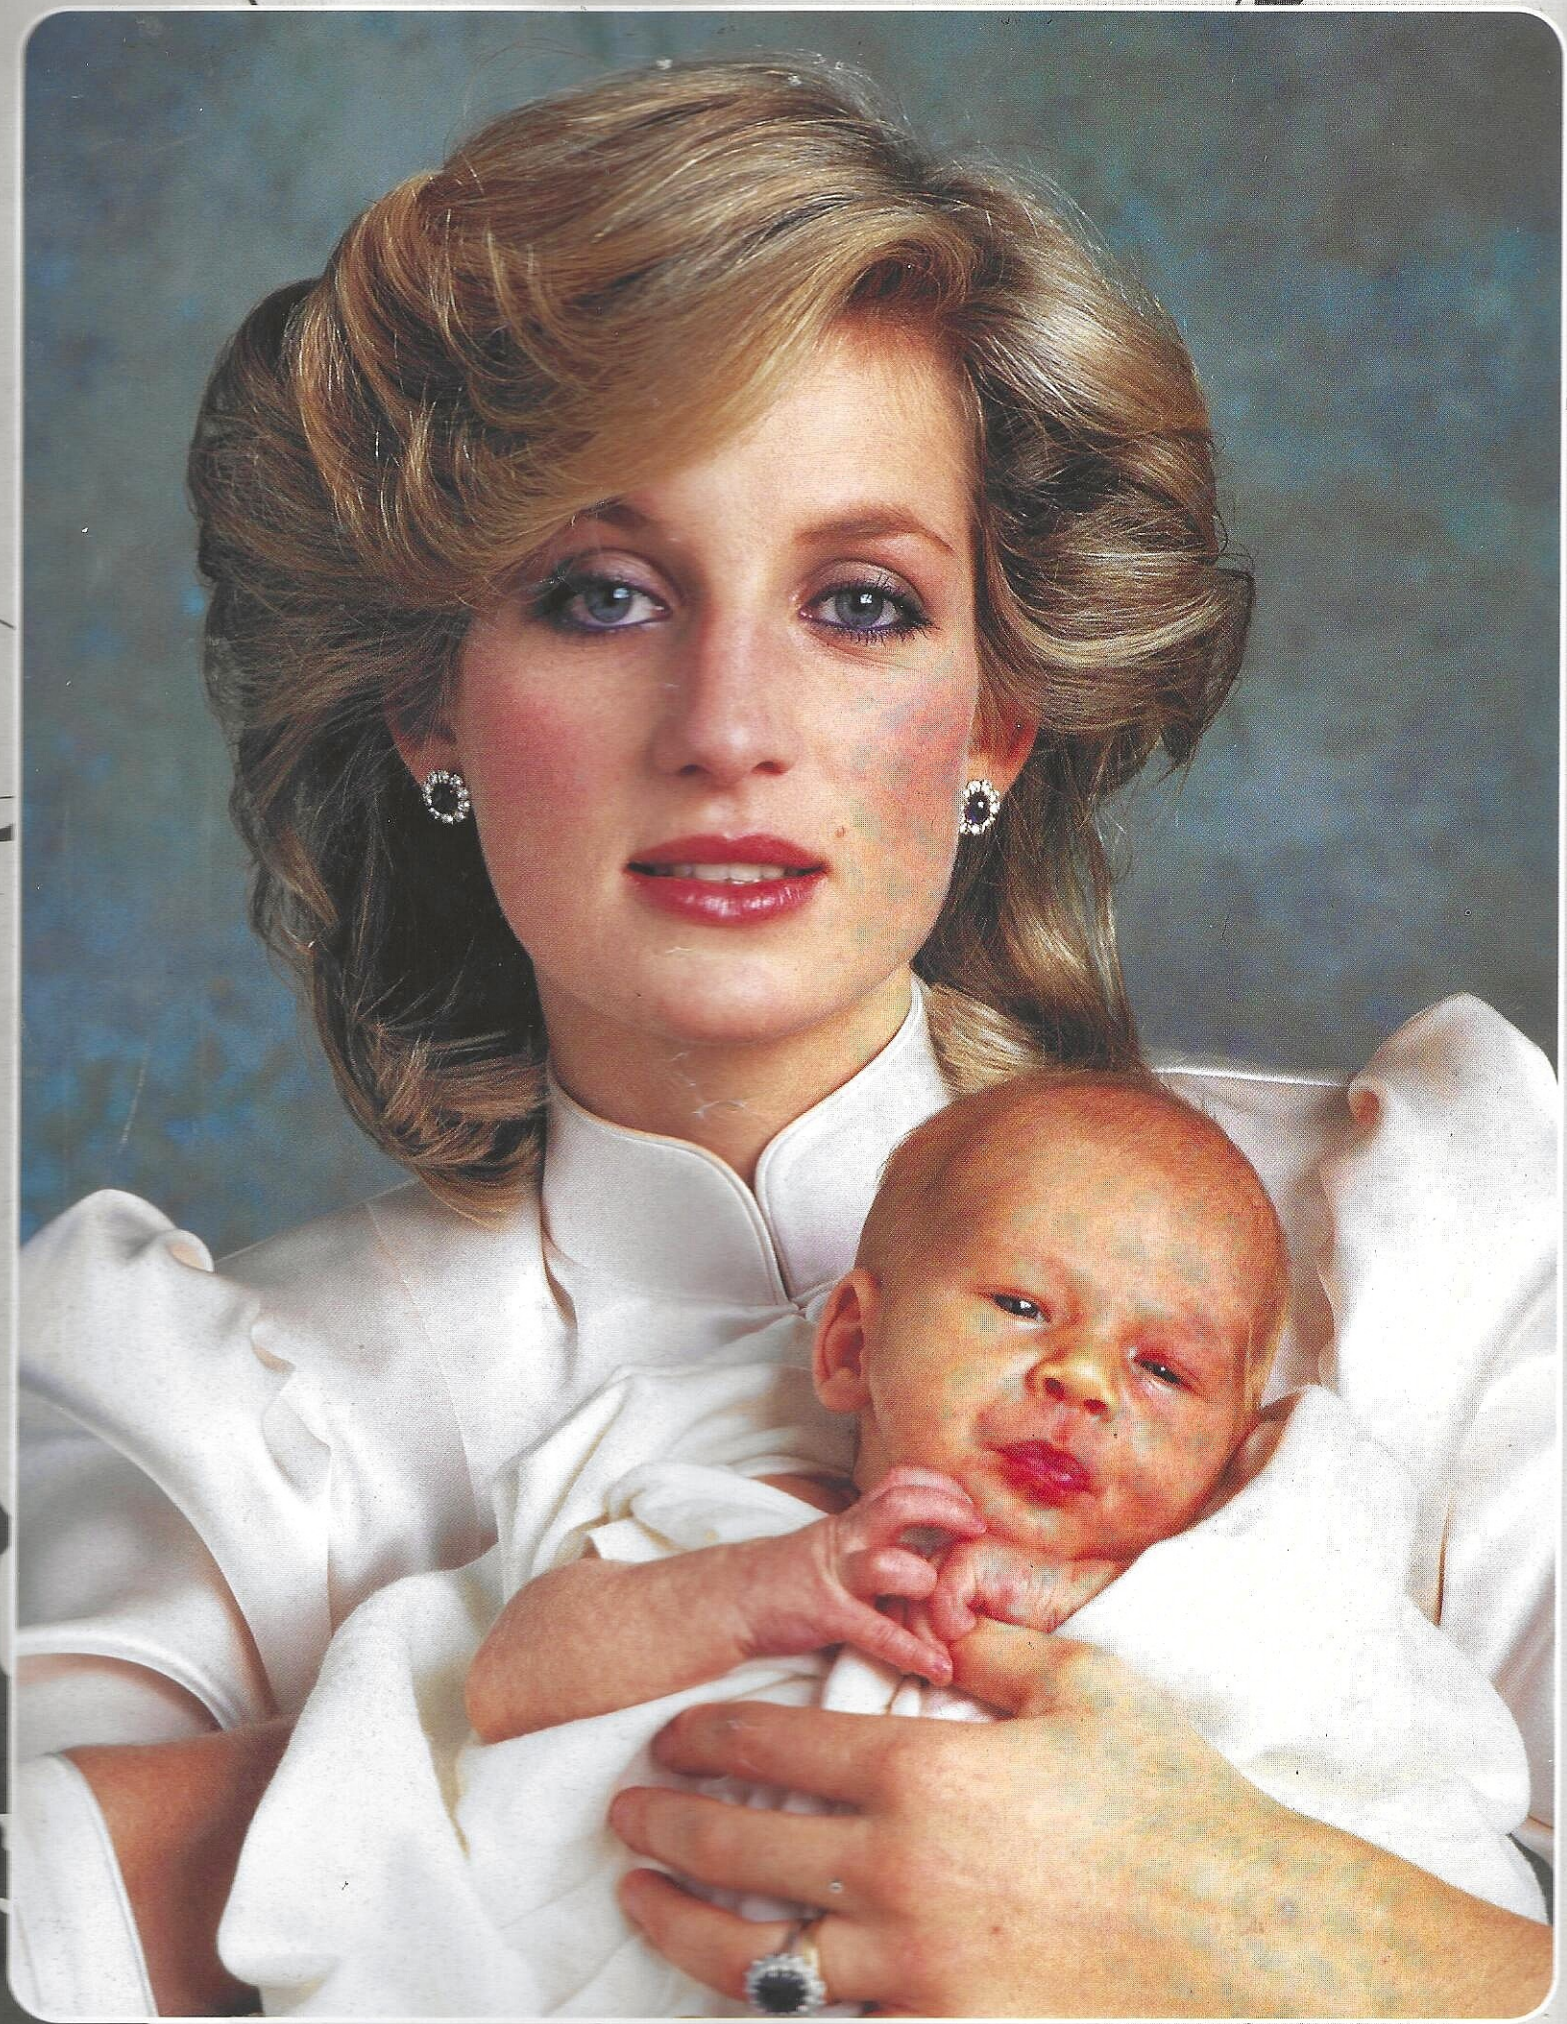
Bob Houston

Publisher & Editor

Snowdon

Snowdon

Tim Graham



Snowdon

Snowdon

Snowdon

Snowdon

Snowdon

David Bailey

Patrick Demarchelier

Terence Donovan

Patrick Demarchelier

Snowdon

Snowdon

℞